ABOUT ME

I am Nihat Safarli, born Sheki in 1993. I started to be interested in software when I was studying for my master's degree in 2019.As a result of my research, I decided to learn C# language.In the last 3 years, I have developed myself in this field, and I have done a few projects for both learning and self-development. I also have 2 projects that I continue to do to improve myself. I have tried to learn this language down to the last detail by participating in online and offline courses, and I am trying.
